  Egypt is the most populous country in North Africa and the Arab world, the third most populous in Africa (after Nigeria and Ethiopia) and is currently facing a "youth bulge".
  Egypt’s national population growth is straining the country’s economic, environmental resources and presents a challenge to the country’s efforts to halt the deteriorating socio-economic situation. 18.2 The Contractor authorizes UNFPA to deduct from the Contractor’s invoices any amount representing such taxes, duties or charges, unless the Contractor has consulted with UNFPA before the payment thereof and the UNFPA has, in each instance, specifically authorized the Contractor to pay such taxes, duties, or charges under written protest. In that event, the Contractor shall provide UNFPA with written evidence that payment of such taxes, duties or charges has been made and appropriately authorized, and UNFPA shall reimburse the Contractor for any such taxes, duties, or charges so authorized by UNFPA and paid by the Contractor under written protest.

19. MODIFICATIONS: Pursuant to the Financial Regulations and Rules of UNFPA, only the Chief of the Procurement Services Branch of UNFPA or such other contracting authority as made known to the Contractor in writing, possesses the authority to agree on behalf of UNFPA to any modification of or change in this Contract, to a waiver of any of its provisions or to any additional contractual relationship of any kind with the Contractor. Accordingly, no modification or change in this Contract shall be valid and enforceable against UNFPA unless provided by an amendment to this Contract signed by the Contractor and the Chief of the Procurement Services Branch of UNFPA or such other contracting authority.

20. AUDITS AND INVESTIGATIONS:
20.1 Each invoice paid by UNFPA shall be subject to a post-payment audit by auditors, whether internal or external, of UNFPA or the United Nations or by other authorized and qualified agents of UNFPA or the United Nations at any time during the term of the Contract and for a period of three (3) years following the expiration or prior termination of the Contract. UNFPA shall be entitled to a refund from the Contractor for any amounts shown by such audits to have been paid by UNFPA other than in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Contract.

Production of Public Auditions Events for TV Drama Series

1. Background:

Egypt is the most populous country in North Africa and the Arab world, the third-most populous in Africa (after Nigeria and Ethiopia) and is currently facing a "youth bulge". Egypt’s national population growth is straining the country’s economic, environmental resources and presents a challenge to the country’s efforts to halt the deteriorating socio-economic situation. From 2006 to 2017, the population grew by 22.8 million, from 72 million to 94.8 million with a current growth rate of 2.4 percent per year. In absolute terms, the population of Egypt has increased by over 20 million in just 10 years. This steady increase threatens to hinder all development efforts with major implications on quality of life and on basic services including education, health, housing, and water.

Approximately 61% of the population is under the age of 30, and 40% is between the ages of 10 and 29. Ensuring this population accesses contraception is critical for them to reach their greatest potential. Without access and use of contraception, youth, girls and young women in particular, are at high-risk of unintended pregnancies and life altering sexually transmitted diseases, all of which perpetuate other societal challenges including, gender inequity, decreased school enrollment, and poverty.

The distinction between unmarried and married youth is particularly relevant in the Egyptian context, as generally unmarried youth are excluded from assessments related to contraception since they are considered not being sexually active. Despite contraception and family planning services are readily available to all married women, a high contraceptive usage discontinuation rate and a host of barriers have ensured that greater efforts are required. These barriers are mainly the lack of follow up on medical care, lack of awareness on the use of contraceptives and lack of education on different types of contraceptives. Recent analysis indicates that there are approximately one million unwanted and/or mistimed pregnancies every year and 79.5% of all married youth are not using contraceptives. If the current annual population growth rate of 2.5% continues, Egypt’s population will hit 120 million in 2030.

Addressing this growth would require significant interventions to address and change social norms around the optimum family size, values and habits related to social relations affecting family formation, reproduction, and gender roles.

One proven method to reach the target population and increase their knowledge and comfort with contraception and sexual health is through a multi-pronged platform centered on a television program. This model includes a unique television series, which addresses contraception and sexual health, as well as supporting a 360-degree Surround and Engage Platform (360SEP) including, radio programming, peer education, professional opportunities, social media, web, and national support lines.

Television and soap operas are key instruments to reach out to a large number of audiences and disseminate key messages in Egypt, particularly for UNFPA’s target audience. With a vibrant print and audio-visual content production sector, the media industry in Egypt is well established in the Arab region\(^5\). For example, in terms of advertising, television constituted in 2011 25% of the total advertising, which evidences the high importance of this medium in order to reach out to UNFPA’s main target audience. Egyptians spend a significant amount of time watching television with 40% of people watching up to four hours of TV daily. Drama series is the third most watched genre, reaching 18%, and among women it is the second preferred genre, after movies.

Additionally, Egyptians spend nearly three hours a day online, with internet usage particularly high among the younger generations\(^6\). With more than 50% of the Arab region’s population being below the age of 25, this group is driving the media consumption and engages with content via multiple digital tools, among them social networks, mobile applications and online videos. The youth in the region have embraced new media as a tool to reach societal and lifestyle ambitions\(^7\).

“MTV Shuga”, programme, implemented by the MTV Staying Alive Foundation is a living example of an effective 360 SEP campaign that has been effectively monitored, evaluated, and demonstrated positive results in Sub Saharan Africa. More than shifts attitudes, it has demonstrated behavior change with clinical impact including a 6% reduction in teen pregnancy in as little as 18 months and reduction of 58% in chlamydia infections in the 6 months after having watched MTV ‘16 and Pregnant’ and MTV Shuga respectively\(^8\).

UNFPA has initiated the Edutainment programme with the support in the establishment phase with the MTV Staying alive foundation to contextualize the 360 SEP campaign in to the national context of Egypt.

UNFPA is seeking a firm to create an interactive and engaging campaign to recruit new faces from talented young people to take part as actors and actresses in the above mentioned T.V series. The company will be introducing a full concept for doing three days of public auditions for young people across three governorates as agreed with UNFPA, pairing the public auditions with daily activities for the mass public attending the auditions with all required logistical preparations.
